SIX-HOUR WORK DAY NOW URGED

Carpenters' Union Takes Step for Change at A. F. of L. Convention.

FIGHT OVER TRADE RULE

Jurisdiction of One Union Over Another When Both Are on Same Job to Be Decided.

Philadelphia, Nov. 11.—Today the real work began in the thirty-fourth annual convention of the American Federation of Labor. When this morning's session opened at 9 o'clock President Gompers started to appoint committees who will clear the field for discussions of internal affairs and external aims of the organization that are to shape the course of the labor movement for the next twelve months.

The fight on the question of jurisdiction of trade over trade will soon begin, according to the plan outlined by President Gompers. The jurisdiction dispute occurs when one trade claims to assume leadership in a job over another with which it is affiliated or associated. One of the most important of the disputes is between the carpenters and the sheet metal workers as to the jurisdiction over the manufacture and erection of roof trimmings for buildings. This matter was the first business taken up this morning by three delegates of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters, three delegates of the Sheet Metal Workers, and three named by President Gompers.

Six-hour Day Sought.

A formal effort to start an agitation for a six-hour work day in all organized trades was launched. A delegate representing the United Brotherhood of Carpenters made the length of the convention hall and showed a resolution calling for a six-hour day into the hands of Samuel Gompers, the president of the federation, who was in the chair. Mr. Gompers passed the resolution to the secretary for later action. The United Brotherhood of Carpenters wish the convention to exert its weight to establish the six-hour day in all trades upon the ground that the eight-hour day is enervating and excessive.

Like other resolutions offered by various delegations, that of the Carpenters was referred to the resolution committee. There is a possibility that it may be reported favorably later in the week, but it is doubtful if it will get the support of the convention at the present session. After all the resolutions had been handed up, President Gompers adjourned the convention until 9:30 tomorrow morning, in order to give the numerous committees an opportunity to prepare reports upon the various subjects covered in the resolutions and in the annual report of the executive council.

What was regarded as one of the most important resolutions offered and one which is likely to get unanimous support in a general vote, calls for the organization of an Independent Labor Party in all states and municipalities and one which is generally supported at elections by the allied labor unions.

PROPOSE POOL ROOM AT BOWIE.

Residents Will Prevent the Carrying Out of Such Scheme.

Special to The Washington Herald. Bowie, Md., Nov. 10.—It is being circulated that a handbook of Washington and Baltimore will open a poolroom here. The circulation of the information has been quickly passed around in both cities with the result that the residents of not only Bowie but of all Prince George's County have been alerted. The sheriff will be requested to quell the plan at once, the people threatening to take the matter up to the governor if it becomes necessary.

Wants a Mile of Pennies.

Mrs. Ellis Logan, president of the Federation of Women's Clubs, has conceived a plan by which the children of Washington and Baltimore might be relieved of the suffering in Europe. She wants every child in the city to give 1 cent until a mile of pennies has been contributed. She is arranging to secure the use of a show window, centrally located, in which the children can watch their pile of pennies grow.

Believe Me I Eat Everything

For I Know a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet Will Digest Any Meal At Any Time.

How often do we see men who cannot eat and who often do not hear of men boasting of their abilities to eat. The secret of all health is digestion. The secret of digestion is the juice which are supplied by the body to separate the ingredients needed from those that are of no use to the system.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet aids Nature in her own way. These little tablets are filled with the right ingredients and exercise so needful to every normal and perfect stomach.

NO WORD FROM U. S. CRUISER.

North Carolina at Beirut, Turkey.

Out of Touch with Department.

The Navy Department has not heard from the armored cruiser North Carolina, supposed to be at Beirut, Turkey, since November 2, and officials are beginning to believe that communication with Beirut must be wholly interrupted. There are not, however, any fears for the safety of the North Carolina, despite rumors apparently originating in this country that she has met with disaster. On November 7 the Navy Department sent a message to the North Carolina at Beirut, receiving no reply to this message, it sent another Monday. There still being no reply, the department yesterday asked the cable company which handled the message to ascertain definitely whether the message ever reached its destination or not. The cable company has not yet reported.

UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT DEFENDS CO-ED SCHOOL

System Does Not Emphasize Sex Consciousness, Declares Albert Ross Hill, of Missouri.

Attacking a charge by "persons in charge of women's colleges" that co-educational institutions emphasize sex consciousness, President Albert Ross Hill, of the University of Missouri, yesterday voiced a strong defense of the "co-ed" school. His statements were made in an address at the closing session of the nineteenth annual meeting of the National Association of State Universities at the New Willard.

"Undoubtedly it would be better for the pupils to be segregated when studying physiology and hygiene," declared President Hill. "But I do not believe that the co-educational institution emphasizes sex consciousness. I believe that the college where only one sex is admitted emphasizes sex consciousness more than the co-educational institution."

He asserted that a gymnasium for women offsets thought of sex consciousness and leads to an absence of such an attitude as mild and thought. "There is need for athletic fields and contests for women," said President Hill. "The women students should have games which will occupy them after they leave the university." He said that golf, tennis, and baseball are proper sports for women.

President Hill declared that the majority of girls who come to the university from high school need guardians. He said the university should have an organization of women for the purpose of helping girls and declared there is now too little social activity in the university. He suggested a central building for women as a social center for the university.

President George Hutcheson Denny, of the University of Alabama, told of the need of commercial education in the university "to raise a generation of capitalists of industry." He declared that the European business man is better equipped for his work than the American, because commercial education is given in European universities. Commissioner of Education Claxton declared the demand for commercial education is greater than ever, because the United States has assumed leadership of the world's trade as a result of the war.

President George Edgar Vincent, of the University of Minnesota, criticized universities in which "much school work is continued." Concerning hygiene, President Vincent said it had been found wise to excuse girls from instruction in sex hygiene when the girls' mothers indicated a desire herself to teach the girl.

The association elected as its president Dr. Benjamin Ide Wheeler, of the University of California. Commissioner of Education Claxton was elected vice president, Harry B. Hutchins, president of the University of Wisconsin, was elected secretary-treasurer. Chancellor Frank Stimson, of the University of Kansas, and President Denny, of the University of Alabama, were elected to the executive committee.

The association decided to hold its next annual meeting in San Francisco, August 2 and 3, and then adjourned.

GERMANS VIGOROUSLY ASSAULT LEFT WING

The German attacks against the line running north and south to the east of Ypres. Here the fresh German troops, failing to profit by the costly lesson of the veterans of the first battle, have been cut down in great numbers by the French and British rapid fire. There is every indication that the fighting in this region will be fought to the blood of the war.

Germans Leaving Belgium.

London, Nov. 10.—The German retreat from Belgium is becoming general. The German army headquarters has been transferred to Alost, fifteen miles west of Brussels and forty miles east of the fighting line at Dixmude.

This circumstance leads to the belief here from the withdrawal of troops from Belgium is not altogether for the purpose of re-enforcing the Austro-German line in the eastern field. The removal of the headquarters to the rear indicates to military experts that the German fighting line also will be transferred to the eastward. Great numbers of big guns are being withdrawn and transported to Germany.

A dispatch to the Central News from Amsterdam today says: "Advices from Liege are to the effect that German artillery regiments with guns have returned from the front and passed through Liege en route to Bromberg and Thorn. On the 10th inst. the German army arrived at Liege with 400 French prisoners reported captured at Lille."

"Two trains loaded with heavy guns passed through Liege yesterday en route to Antwerp."

Furious Fighting Near Dixmude.

Thick fogs which have enveloped the front line intermittently for several days have at last cleared away to a dispatch from Flushing, and furious fighting has been resumed in the direction of Dixmude. This town, like Ramscapelle, has changed hands several times and each now resembles a graveyard which has been swept by the shattering walls of buildings and monuments are like blackened tombstones rising above the burying places of what were once thriving municipalities.

The flooding of the valley of the Yser by the Belgians has proved something of a boomerang. It served its purpose of forcing the Germans to retire because the inundated country was untenable, but now that the Germans have been forced back the condition of the country prevents the Belgians from advancing to press their advantage.

"ASK ME ABOUT ARMY," IS GARRISON'S REBUKE

Secretary Protests Against Information Gained by Congress Through "Loose Relations" with Officers.

Representative Gardner or any committee in Congress may have all the information desired concerning the military establishment of the United States, according to statements made by Secretary of War Garrison yesterday, but such information must be obtained through him, and not through "loose relations" between army officers and Congress.

If any information is desired about the condition of the army, Secretary Garrison believes application should be made to him and the information received through him. The Secretary expects that if military questions proper are taken up in the hearing before the House Committee on the House of Representatives Gardner's resolution calling for an investigation of the national defense, that he, as the responsible officer of the government, will be the first one called.

Consequently, if Representative Gardner asks Secretary Garrison to detail officers to appear before the Rules Committee, in all probability the Secretary will refuse to grant this request. Should Representative Gardner ask the Secretary for information specifying just what information he wishes to have, undoubtedly the Secretary would furnish it to him. Likewise, should the committee call upon him for information, the Secretary will furnish it, and also furnish such officers as may be desired to supplement his own statements.

There are indications that the administration is not overpleased at the prospects of Representative Gardner succeeding in bringing before Congress a serious discussion, even if not an investigation, of the military preparedness of the country. The attitude of the White House is not one of sympathy and approval, and there is good reason to believe that the less said in public this winter about national preparedness for war the better pleased will be the President. He told callers yesterday when asked regarding the appearance of army and navy officers before a Congressional committee, that he regarded it as a hypothetical question.

Bible Class Formed for Girls.

A bible class for young women of Georgetown Washington University has been organized by Miss Mary Alice Fenney, secretary of religious work of the Washington Y. W. C. A. The class, which will meet every Friday, will study the recent publication, "Student Standards of Action," by Ethel Cutler and Harrison Elliot.

Keary Statue Unveiling.

President Wilson, Secretary of War Garrison, the governor of New Jersey, and a delegation of 300 from that State will attend the unveiling ceremonies of the Gen. Keary statue, at Arlington this afternoon. Details of cavalry and artillery from Fort Myer will participate. The public is invited.

Lyons in Law School Race.

Maurice F. Lyons, secretary to William F. McCombs during the prenomination and presidential campaigns, and lately appointed to the Treasury Department, is the chief candidate for the presidency of the second year class of Georgetown Law School. The election will take place Thursday evening.

GEN. DE WET'S SON KILLED.

Meets Death in Skirmish of Boers Against Unionist Forces.

Prerita, South Africa, Nov. 10.—Col. Daniel De Wet, a son of Gen. Christian De Wet, has been killed in a skirmish between rebellious Boers and loyal Unionist forces near Dornberg. The Unionist forces were commanded by Gen. Cronje, a member of the legislature to whom re-enforcements are being sent. It is officially announced that a force of rebels under Gen. Christian Beyers was defeated by loyal Unionist forces under Gen. Lammer southeast of Bloemhof, in the Transvaal, Sunday. The rebels had killed and eleven wounded. They also lost 354 men in prisoners, 300 rifles and 300 horses. The Unionist troops had three killed.

Fears for Ship Bound for Arctic.

Nome, Alaska, Nov. 10.—The schooner New Jersey, which left Nome three weeks ago for Point Hope in the Arctic Ocean, has not been heard of and it is feared she has drifted out to sea and is frozen in the Arctic ice.

CARL HANS LODY SHOT ON CONVICTION AS SPY

Paid Death Penalty in Tower of London Friday Last, It Is Officially Announced.

London, Nov. 10.—Carl Hans Lody, who was tried on the charge of being a spy before a court-martial under the presidency of Lord Chelmsford and found guilty, was shot to death in the Tower of London Friday last, it was officially announced today. On the witness stand Lody admitted he was formerly a lieutenant in the German navy and said he had been instructed to keep track of the movements of the British fleet, but not to do any spying. Lody was the former husband of an Omaha heiress.

Cecil Raleigh, Playwright, Dies.

London, Nov. 10.—Cecil Raleigh, the playwright, died here today.

SAVES LIFE OF PRINCE.

Woman Prevents Kaiser's Youngest Son Being Killed by Bomb.

New York, Nov. 10.—Mrs. Leslie Mason of this city, who was a passenger on the Italian liner St. Pauline, arriving here today, told how she had saved the life of Prince Joachim, youngest son of the Kaiser. Mrs. Mason was a passenger on a train bound from Nuremberg to Switzerland upon which a private car bearing Prince Joachim was attached. She noticed men in her compartment carrying bundles and talking among themselves in a language she believed to be Russian. At a way station Mrs. Mason informed the military guard and the men were arrested. Their bundles contained bombs. The prince thanked Mrs. Mason and asked her New York address so that he could send her an honorary decoration.
